Alexandria.

The Alexandria correspondent of the Washington Chronicle says: - "Our manufactories consist of two planing mills, a brass and iron foundry, machine shops of the Orango, Alexandria and Manassas and the Washington and Ohio railroads, two plaster mills, two flour mills, and several small wheat and corn mills, the Mount Vernon Cotton Factory, three cab-inet factories, a ship-yard, a large tannery, oc-cupying half a square of ground, a pottery, several brick and lime kilns, one of the best eracker factories in the country, two distilleries, two cigar factories, and several coach and wagou factories.

Another source of employment to labor is the coal companies. The American, represented by Captain Boothe, the Baltimore and Hampshire, represented by George P, Hutton, esq., and Mr. J. P. Agnew, who represents several companies. These agencies employ between 220 and 300 laborers the greater part of the year, to say nothing of the trade brought here by vessels that come to carry away the coal and the large trade with the canal-men, who nearly all purchase their supplies in our city. There are several hundred of this class of persons to be supplied with food and clothing, and it amounts to a pretty large sum in the course of a year. Among the buildings erected since the war, first and foremost stands our new Market House. It was designed by Architect Adolf Cluss, of your city, and cost the city $50,000 without counting extras and finishing touches. The steeple and town clock were presented by an esteemed fellow-townsman.—Washington Lodge No. 22, Masons, also has a room in this building, which cost between $5,000 and $8,000. All this added to the cost of furnishing the court room, council chamber, &c., &c., will amount to about $75,000. The present rental of the market amounts to between $3,500 and $4,000 a year, and is increasing each year. The money received from these rents is placed in a sinking fund to liquidate a debt incurred by the corporation in aid of the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas railroad of $100,000. The stock of the company owned by the city was sold to raise means to rebuild the market house, and was purchased by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for $35,000 .-There was $10,000 insurance on the old building. As an evidence of our prosperity it may be well to say that a floating debt of forty thousand dollars, or thereabouts, has been paid off during the year, and that our Corporation taxes next year will not exceed $1.50 on the $100. This year it was $2 00, a special tax being levied to pay the floating debt with. Another fine building, and costing about $10,000, is the Corn Exchange, which I do not hesitate to pronounce the finest building of the kind in the State, and is situated on the corner of King and Union streets, giving a very corner of King and Union streets, giving a very good appearance to the lower portion of our principal street. The building is owned by the Commercial Exchange Association, consisting of our merchants. The stock is said to be a FRENCH WINDOW GLASS & PUTTY. of our merchants. The stock is said to be a paying investment. It was built upon the site of the old custom house, which was sold to the present owners by the Government for about $5,000. The building and grounds cost Uncle Sam in the neighborhood of $30,000.'

ORIGIN OF FAMILIAR WORDS.-The word "quiz," to make fun of, or poke fun at, a person, was the coinage of a theatrical manager in Dublin, who, at a drinking party with his friends one Saturday night, when the conversation turned upon the subject of words, offered to bet the wine that he could then and there coin a word which would be in the mouths of all Dublin the next day. The bet being taken and the party dispersed, the manager called up his call-boys and runners, gave them pieces of chalk and ordered them to run all over the for gentlemen's wear, consisting of

Call and examine. city, chalking the word "quiz" on every door, shutter, and fence they came to. This was done, and, as a matter of course, the new word was in everybody's mouth the next day. The manager won his bet; and his word is now in all respectable dictionaries,

The slang expression for death, "kicking the bucket," had its origin from one Bolsover, who in England, a great while ago, committed suicide by standing on a bucket till he kicked the bucket from under him.

To "dun," to press for money due, comes from one Joe Dunn, a famous bailiff of Lincoln, in England, during the reign of Henry VII. He was so uncommonly successful in collecting money that when a man refused to pay, the creditor was asked why he didn't Dunn him. "Humbug" is a corruption of the Irish word uimboy, pronounced combug, signifying soft OYSTER SALOON, copper, or pewter, or brass, or worthless mopey, such as was made by James II. at the Dublin mint—twenty shillings of which was worth only two pence sterling. At first applied to worthless coin, the words became the general title of anything talse or counterfeit.

The sign "viz," signifying to wit, or namely is an abbreviation of videlicit; but the third letter was not originally a z; it was the mark used in medicine for a drachm, which, in writing, much resembles a z. and in "viz" was simply used as a mark or sign of abbreviation.

A NOVEL WEDDING .- A wedding transpired in Clermont, Ohio, on Tuesday last of rather a sensational character. Rev. H. M. Keck united in holy wedlock Mr. T. A. Matthews and Mrs. Sarah E. Shockley, in a two horse carriage, on Market street, in front of the publie buildings. The bridegroom informed the officiating minister that they had a long distance to go, and it was necessary to be expedi-

The minister then suggested that the wedding take place in the carriage, and he then set his basket on the pavement, while Mr. M. united the hitching-strap and got in, so that he might be tied while the horses were uplossed. The parties were married in a sitting posture because the carriage was too low to stand up in; then they were a little cramped for room by the presence of three bright-eyed children. The passers-by searely gave the carriage or the minister a momentary g-ance, were conversing together in a quiet way. physician.

Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored.

This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sconer by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened.
